“It’s really changed what we can do within our department!”

Grapevine Colleyville ISD

According to Data Secretary Eileen Antinone, processing paper transcript requests would take a lot of her time. “I was working nights and weekends, so we were looking for a faster system. With Parchment, we can process 30 transcript requests in just 5 minutes.” In fact, because most transcripts are now sent electronically, Parchment saved the school almost $10K and 662 hours over the last 12 months. With the fees charged for alumni orders, the subscription cost was completely covered making the move to Parchment an even bigger pay off.

Parchment automation also eliminated the need to hire someone to handle requests during the summer months. “I’ve literally sat on the beach with my kids and used my cell to log in, click ‘approve all’ and log out,” Eileen reported. Nobody has to go into the office, and nobody has to mail anything.

“As a counselor, I love the analytics piece,” said Lead Counselor Mary Parsley. “We can see the number of transcripts and how we are doing compared to the other schools. It’s fun to see the trends from year to year of where our students are applying, so we can make sure we are presenting guidance information about the colleges and institutions they are interested in.”

“It’s amazing, the efficiency, because before Parchment we couldn’t ask our counseling clerk to help us with projects because she spent almost the entire year processing transcripts,” Mary added. “It’s really changed what we’re able to do within our department.”
